

Ten Essential Awarenesses... Small Group Leadership That Transforms

1. All of us have fallen or will fall into every one of the _____ categories at some time in our lives.
2. Tribal group members may have a _____ perspective of Scripture.
3. Tribal group members will “_____ then _____” the truth rather than “embrace then investigate” it.
4. Tribal group members need to discover truth in _____.
5. Tribal group members are comfortable firmly planted in a _____ mindset.
6. Tribal CMC members today are more likely to have _____ than before.
7. Most welcome _____ but will shut their minds off if the Bible study, by design or not, becomes a _____.
8. Tribal group members are hearing “_____” that are not in the room.
9. Tribal small-group members will not always accept that the author of the study or the lecturer on the DVD is the _____.
10. Tribal small-group members need the freedom to discuss other _____.

Ten Essential Awarenesses... Small Group Leadership That Transforms

1. All of us have fallen or will fall into every one of the life situation categories at some time in our lives.

- Saved cynic
- Secularized struggler
- Not-yet-converted conversationalist
- Convinced biblically functioning follower of Christ

2. Tribal group members may have a Mark 9:24 perspective of Scripture.

3. Tribal group members will “investigate then embrace” the truth rather than “embrace then investigate” it.

4. Tribal group members need to discover truth in community.

5. Tribal group members are comfortable firmly planted in a Deuteronomy 29:29 mindset.

6. Tribal CMC members today are more likely to have emotional trigger points than before.

7. Most welcome dialogue but will shut their minds off if the Bible study, by design or not, becomes a monologue.

8. Tribal group members are hearing “voices” that are not in the room.

9. Tribal small-group members will not always accept that the author of the study or the lecturer on the DVD is the final authority.

10. Tribal small-group members need the freedom to discuss other belief systems.